

Open Position: In-House Spanish Translator

This versatile position involves hands-on experience with all aspects of the translation process including translating, reviewing, proofreading, managing terminology and project sourcing. You will be working with an enthusiastic and cooperative team of project managers, as well as numerous freelance translators specializing in a range of subjects. We offer a friendly, energetic work environment and encourage individual initiative, with a focus on quality and complete client satisfaction.

Qualifications

- Minimum: Bachelor's degree in translation and/or languages
- Experience working as an in-house or freelance translator preferred, but not a prerequisite
- Native speaker of the target language
- Excellent writing skills
- Excellent English communication skills
- Familiarity with translation memory and terminology management software
- Attention to detail and deadlines
- Able to work well under pressure
- Excellent computer skills

About Language Intelligence

Recently named among Rochester's Top 100 fastest growing companies, Language Intelligence has been providing language services to international companies for 20 years. Translation projects range from technical documentation to software to marketing collateral. Innovative technology, an intelligent approach to all projects, and a dynamic team environment make Language Intelligence an exciting place to work.

How to Apply

Language Intelligence offers competitive compensation, health care benefits and retirement.

If you meet the above qualifications, please submit your résumé/CV to:

Human Resources: hr@languageintelligence.com